

This is a very unfair idea. There is no reason why we cannot be in complete control of our software choice. Why Should we limit ourselves to using only properly certified software to do the job, when everyone knows that the best software is free software. Taking our right to choose software is a disgrace to this contry's freedom.